About the Author

Rayappa A. Kasi, a Catholic priest, an emerging environmental activist, and the author of six books. "Atmosphere - A Thin Line between Life and Death" is the latest and very comprehensive work from the author. He was a student of Ontology from St. Paul's Seminary, Tiruchy, India and he was taught by Professor Fr. Chinnadurai SJ and Fr. Raja SJ, who inspired him and many other students in the field of Cosmology and Ontology. Former Indian President Abdul Kalaam thought the same and he was the student of Fr. Chinnadurai SJ. At present, Rayappa A. Kasi lectures to students around the world on Earth's Systems and Role of Religions on Climate Change. As a priest, he thinks priesthood is a powerful tool if we put it to good use, to create a New Earth. His other books include: Earth - The Lost Paradise of Happiness; Global Warming - Everything You Want to Know; Biosphere - The Fragility of our Natural Heritage; Lithosphere - A Destructive Creator; and Hydrosphere - The Giver of Life.

Atmosphere - A Thin Line between Life and Death is an enriching and farsighted work. If you want to quickly get up to date on Atmosphere, I recommend this book. If you can read only one book on Atmosphere, this is it. Bishop Christopher Kakooza (Uganda).

Scientists predict that Global Warming will rise temperatures between one to six degrees Celsius over the course of this century, and Rayappa A. Kasi paints an amazing picture of the origin of Atmosphere and its gases. Simple enough for a beginner, but challenging enough for an advanced student, "Atmosphere - A Thin Line between Life and Death" is your shortcut to understanding this important and timely issue. Dr. A. Savarimuthu, Tiruvannamalai.

Well-documented and electrifying … Particularly compelling is Rayappa A. Kasi's classification of Seven Wonders of Atmosphere and Ten Heroes of Atmosphere. It is an important reading for priests and religious, climate-change skeptics and anyone planning a future beyond the next decade. Fr. Augustine Sellam SDB (Dar Es Salaam, Tanzania).

Highly interesting book, written by passionately committed Rayappa A. Kasi, is timely, informative, and a joy to read. The central issue of this book is of such critical importance, Global Warming and Climate Change, induced by human activity and how they affect the "Atmosphere- A Thin Line between Life and Death". Fr. William Patrick SDB (Fujairah, Dubai).
